

TAO SEI TABLE

“Sometimes beauty is not in what we add, but in what we dare to leave out.

I wanted to create a form reduced to its essence, where emptiness is not an absence but a presence. In the void, the eye rests. The mind breathes. Space begins to speak.

SEI was born from that silence.

Its base is drawn with only two curves. Nothing more. They rise, meet and part again in a single soft movement, a line that seems to flow through the air rather than stand in it. Around them, the void becomes part of the piece, as essential as the metal itself.

Crafted in metal, SEI stands as a totem of equilibrium, a form in quiet dialogue with gravity. It is calculated, not designed: every proportion drawn from sacred geometry to hold tension and stillness in the same gesture.

Less form. More presence.

Balance made material.”
