

TAO WA TABLE

"We live in a dual world. Light and shadow, day and night, masculine and feminine, the visible and the invisible. Everything we know exists in relation to its opposite. For a long time I saw these pairs as forces in tension. Then I understood that when we truly observe duality, it stops dividing us. It transforms into something greater.

The WA table was born from that revelation. Its base begins with two circles of sacred geometry, two complete worlds facing each other. From their meeting, the form grows upward, unfolds and becomes one single gesture that rises to hold the tabletop. Two becomes one. Opposition becomes support.

Carved from solid marble, WA stands as a totem of equilibrium, a form in quiet dialogue with gravity. It is calculated, not designed: every proportion drawn from sacred measures to hold tension and stillness in the same gesture.

Duality, once seen, becomes harmony.

Balance made material."
