

TOTEM RIVER CABINET

“The Earth breathes. Beneath our feet it holds an energy we rarely see but always feel, in the silence of a cave, in the glow of a crystal, in the veins of gold that run through the darkness of the mountains like rivers of light.

I wanted to tell that story in a single piece.

TOTEM RIVER LIGHT is built like the Earth itself. Outside, stone: solid, grounded, ancient, the protective skin of the mountain. Inside, brass: warm, luminous, precious, the hidden gold of the mine. To open it is to enter the heart of the Earth, where crystals grow in silence and light is born from darkness.

Its proportions are not arbitrary. I calculated every measure using sacred geometry drawn from the latitude of the place where it lives. The piece belongs to its site, tuned to the exact point of the Earth it stands on, harmonizing with the energy that rises from below.

It is a unique piece, made once, for one place. A totem that guards the energy of the land and returns it as light.

The Earth keeps its treasures within. So does this cabinet.”
